Biographical Note

Jack V. Sewell was born in St. Joseph, Missouri on June 11, 1923 to Arthur B. and Annie L. Sewell. He attended St. Joseph Central High School and was the Art Editor for the school magazine Tower Gleams. He joined the Army in 1943, entering the Army Special Training Program in July of that year to study Spanish at City College of New York in New York City.

In February of 1944, Sewell began training in photo intelligence at the Military Intelligence Training Center at Camp Ritchie in Maryland. He left the U.S. for the Pacific Theater in July serving as a member of 131 Photo Interpreter Team. His unit served with the Allied Geographical Section and the 6th Army in the South West Pacific Area (SWPA) from July, 1944 until January, 1946 processing and interpreting aerial intelligence photography and creating photo mosaics of various strategic locations in the Pacific. The team provided photo intelligence to U.S. forces in preparation for the Allied invasion of Luzon. Sewell was stationed in New Guinea, Australia, and the Philippines during the war and finished his service as a Technical Sergeant in Kyoto after Japan surrendered.

After the war, Jack continued to pursue his love for art. After receiving both his bachelors and masters degrees from the University of Chicago, he received his doctorate degree from Harvard in Oriental Art with an emphasis on art from India, China, and Japan. He began working for the Art Institute in Chicago in 1951 and retired 37 years later as the Curator of the Oriental and Classical department. He is the author of multiple books on art from Asia.

Jack Sewell died in Dubuque, Iowa on Nov. 4, 2010.

Scope and Content of the Collection

The Jack V. Sewell collection consists of personal correspondence, official documents and papers, ephemera, awards, scrapbooks, and photographs related to Jack V. Sewell during his service as a photo interpreter for the 131 Photographic Interpreter Team of the U.S. Army during World War II. The collection also includes correspondence, papers, and photographs pertaining to the Sewell family and to Lucy Shortridge, Edward Kelley, and George Martin.

Arrangement

Most of the collection arrived with no discernible arrangement and was rearranged categorically and then chronologically into series by PMML staff. The exception to this is Series Six. The contents of each scrapbook in Series Six have been kept in their original order. The collection is contained within seven letter-size boxes, two legal-size boxes, one artifact box, and three oversize boxes. The collection is arranged into series according to correspondence, government documents, newspaper clippings, ephemera, scrapbooks, and photographs.

Series One: Jack Sewell Correspondence, Boxes 1-7

This series includes letters, postcards, and v-mails written by T/Sgt Jack V. Sewell from 1942-1954. The majority of the correspondence is between Jack and his family during his service in the U.S. Army from March, 1943 to January, 1946. His correspondence focuses on his daily experiences while stationed in the United States, New Guinea, Australia, the Philippines, and Japan during WWII. Correspondence is organized by date.

Series Two: Other Correspondence, Box 7

This series includes letters, postcards, and v-mails written by Lucy Shortridge, Ed Kelley, and Martin Burns as well as miscellaneous letter fragments, postcards, and envelopes not directly connected to Jack Sewell. Correspondence is organized by person and then by date.

Series Three: Government Documents, Box 7

This series includes government and military documents regarding T/Sgt. Jack V Sewell from the Sixth Army, the Veterans Administration, the U.S. Army, and others from 1943-51. The series includes milestone documents such as Sewell's separation papers, the citation for his Bronze Star Award, his certificate of Honorable Discharge, as well as more general documents such as weekend passes, General Orders, V.A. insurance forms, and others.

Series Four: Newspaper Clips, Boxes 8-9

This series contains newspaper clippings from articles, comics, and photographs published in a variety of newspapers that Jack sent to his family during his service in WWII. The majority of the clippings regard some aspect of the war and many of them regard issues or events closely related to Jack's service in the Army. Some of the clippings include short messages written by Jack to his family to indicate which family member the clipping is intended for or to provide context. Also included in the series are several full-size front pages with headlines referencing events from the war. The items are organized by date.

Series Five: Ephemera, Boxes 9, 11

This series contains items that are related to events that Jack attended or places that he visited during his time in the Army from 1943-1946, including holiday programs, church service programs, maps, city guides, and more. The items are organized by date.

Series Six: Scrapbooks, Boxes 9-11

This series contains four scrapbooks relating to Jack Sewell's life during and after his service in World War II and one scrapbook belonging to Edward Kelley. The first scrapbook, "Letters from Jack Sewell to Mamaw" contains letters and postcards that Jack sent to his grandmother while he was in the Army. "My Private War" is a two volume scrapbook collection that combines photographs with a written narrative that tells the story of his service in the Army from 1943-1946. "Jack Sewell's Post-War Civilian Life" details Jack's post-war years from 1943-1948 in a manner similar to "My Private War". "Edward Kelley's Service Memory Book" includes several pictures of Kelley and his family and lists contacts that he made during his service in WWII.

Series Seven: Photographs, Boxes 11-12

This series includes all of the photographs not included in a scrapbook. Subjects include Jack Sewell, the Sewell family, Edward Kelley, other friends of the Sewells, and historic locations in New York City. Some of the photographs are duplicates of those found in the scrapbooks.
