Biographical Note

Sholom Israel Gliksman was born May 18, 1943 to HaRav Shlomo HaCohen Gliksman and Anna Galex Nadler Robinson in Chicago and was raised in Detroit, Michigan. He was an alumnus of the Ida Crown Jewish Academy, the Chicago Theological Seminary, Roosevelt University, Loyola University, and Syracuse University.

Gliksman enlisted in the United States Army in late 1966, and by mid-1967, was stationed in Nha Trang, Vietnam where he served as Chaplain. In 1968, he was awarded a bronze star for his service in the Republic of Vietnam Theater and returned to the States.

Gliksman continued to teach Jewish soldiers and civilians after his time in the war and was active with the Oak Park Temple and the Jewish Reconstructionist Congregation in Evanston. For the majority of his life, Gliksman worked for nonprofit and government organizations including the United Jewish Appeal, the Northern Illinois Planning Commission, and Cook County. In May 2000, Gliksman married Carol Brumer.

Scope and Content of the Collection

The Sholom I. Gliksman collection consists of Military documents, correspondence, orders, programs and photographs relating to Sholom Gliksman's time in Nha Trang during the Vietnam War. Most of the items are focused on Gliksman's duties as a Rabbinic chaplain and work with Jewish soldiers. The items in this series are arranged in chronological order when the date is available; undated items are grouped together at the end of the series. The photographs in this collection from Gliksman's time in Vietnam, primarily in Nha Trang, are mostly undated. They have been arranged by size and format as well as grouped together by developer's codes on the backside of the photographs. The images show Gliksman with fellow soldiers, friends, congregations, and students. The locations range from inside Jewish ceremonies, camp, local villages, to trips to Washington D.C. The remainder of the collection consists of military artifacts such as: uniforms and hats, plaques, certificates, and chaplain's kit. There is one oversize box which contains four certificates and diplomas.
