Scope and Content of the Collection

The Morris Janowitz collection consists of official documents, papers, and artifacts that belonged to Janowitz during his service during World War II from 1943 to 1945, documents and publications of his professional work, and news clippings written by him or that include him as a subject or as an expert. Also included in the collection are his WWII-era and post-war photographs as well as two sets of lithographs.

Arrangement

The collection arrived with no discernible arrangement and was reorganized by PMML staff by document type, subject, and date. The collection is contained within one legal-sized box and one medium-oversized box. The collection is arranged into series according to correspondence, publications, miscellaneous, and photographs.

Series One: Correspondence

This series contains letters and v-mails written by Morris Janowitz to his parents during WWII, including letters written while stationed in England, France, and Germany.

There are also a small number of letters written by Janowitz post-WWII as well as letters written by others that are in reference to Janowitz.

Series Two: Publications

This series contains scholarly works written by Janowitz that appeared in academic or professional journals; newspaper articles that are either written by Janowitz, contain quotes from him, or are in some way about him; and manuscripts that were written by Janowitz or refer to him.

Series Three: Miscellaneous

This set contains itineraries, event programs, and other miscellaneous documents regarding Morris Janowitz.

Series Four: Photographs

This series consists mostly of photographs taken while Janowitz was serving in the Army and stationed in Europe during WWII as well as a few post-war photographs.
